ONE MOMENT IN TIME . . .
SPRING JUBILEE 1989

Spring Jubilee 1989 took place April 22-23, 1989. The "Jub" is the spring formal held every year here at the Webb. Decked-out students and their dates go out for a nice dinner and then come back to dance the night away. On April 22, a concert featuring the Creek, with Impulse Ride as an opening act, rocked the Paul Porter Arena. This concert marked the beginning of a tradition known as the Webb Jam. The dance was DJ'd by V.I.P. Productions and the theme for the evening was "One Moment in Time."

GRADUATION '89 . . .
SPINNING INTO NEW WORLD

Graduation for the class of 1989 was held on May 6 in the Lutz-Yelton Convocation Center. As the graduates walked across the stage, many thoughts ran through their now-educated minds, such as: "What am I going to do?"; "Where do I go from here?"; and "Hooray, I'm out of here! No more classes; no more school."

As they sang the Alma Mater for the last time, tears came to their eyes and lumps to their throats. But, still they knew what they had to do. Their time had come to go out and conquer the world. Ultimately, their lives were finally theirs to do with as they pleased.

Graduate Clint Wiles is ready to take on the world.

The class of 1989 rejoices.

As members of Alpha Chi, Lori Meadows and Greg Marshall served as Junior Marshals.

With Academics

Okay, so let me get this straight. 1 + 1 = 3?

Chris and Jimmy pick Tracy up after she discovers that she actually passed all of her classes.

Sure this is homework. I'm reading the sports section for P.E. Yeah, that's it . . . that's the ticket.

Did you understand all that stuff about logarithmic molecular covalent structures of dining hall food?

Spin Into the Year

Oops Jon! Oh, well it's only practice!

We got a touchdown and you didn't!

I give up! You can have anything but my basketball!

With Fall Sports

Mark Smith works hard to keep his dribble up to par.

Freshman Charles Barnes comes into his own after Dimekko Sidney is injured.

The Iceman Cometh to Gardner-Webb.

Waters floods the endzone.

Campus Life

The campus shares an atmosphere of friendliness. Rarely will there be a time when there is no one to talk or associate with. This is one of the aspects that people find very attractive about Gardner-Webb.

Group activities play a major role in every student's life. Football games, dances, and concerts are always included in the weekly schedules for Gardner-Webb members.

There is always something to do here on the Gardner-Webb campus. If you're not an active member of a club or sports team, you can chose from any number of other events, such as playing ping-pong, being with your friends, or just relaxing quietly outside.

Leisure

Like all other colleges, Gardner-Webb has a variety of personalities. No matter how dreary the day, there is always somebody who has a smile and a friendly greeting. Here are some of those friendly faces.

Alpha Psi Omega's trek through history was good enough for third place in the annual float competition.

Once again, the trees wore necklaces of paper as GWC students banded together to give the campus much-needed finishing touches.

"The Great Balloon Bonanza" gave students as well as community a chance to win $25 each.

The top of an outstanding week came Saturday as the Bulldogs beat the Bears, 39-30.

The announcement of the finalists for Homecoming court . . . a chance to win cash . . . seeing a great football team in action. These were just a few of the activities that took place during Homecoming '89 . . . Destined to Conquer!

The week started with "Krack Me Up", which gave students a chance to win $25. The lucky winners were Lori Harrison, Nancy Reid, and Brian Calloway. "Fletch Lives" was shown on Tuesday and donuts were given out.

Wednesday, GWC students received discount tickets to the county fair. "Mouthin Off," a lip synch competition, displayed the tremendous creativity of the student body. Winners included "Jammin' Granny Fannies," "Too Much Soul,' and "New Chicks on the Block."

A Pump Rally raised the spirits of the student body on Friday. A bonfire was held in conjunction with the rally. The Bulldogs beat the Bears in the annual Homecoming football games Saturday. A victory dance after with V.I.P. Productions capped a great week.

In other events, Arvile Dunn and Chris Ruppe solved the clues and found $50 in "The Hunt." Kim Freeman was crowned Homecoming Queen with a court of Angela Spears, Julie Henson, Mary Metcalf, and Rachel Lee. And, the Cheerleaders introduced Lulu, the female Bulldog, to Gardner-Webb and the rest of the world.

"V" for victory was definitely the sign of the times during Homecoming '89

DESTINED TO CONQUER . . .

The moment of truth. It's time to separate the men from the boys.

The Homecoming Court stands in anticipation of the naming of the 1989 Homecoming Queen.

With the game on the line, both players and fans alike concentrate on the game. Standout receiver Tim Waters and Bulldog fan Stacy Stanley watch as the Bulldog defense stands the test.

The Bulldog defense converges on Lenior-Rhyne quarterback Laurentine, licking its chops and ready for destruction.

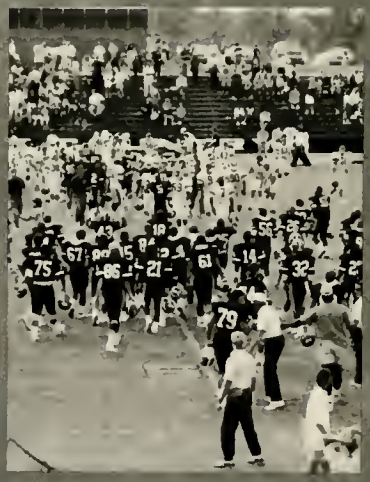
STRENGTHENING THE WEBB!

P-O-O-O-O-K!! (You figure it out!)

First it was a fish. Now, it's a dog. Look out cats of the world!

The defense rests while the offense struts its stuff. (below)

Hey, Laura. The game is this way!



"We are the Champions, my friend. And we'll keep on winning 'til the end."

The Wind Beneath My Wings

It must have been cold there in my shadow
To never have sunlight on your face
You've been content to let me shine
You always walked a step behind

I was the one with all the glory
While you were the one with all the strength
only a face without a name
I never once heard you complain

Did you ever know that you're my hero?
And everything I'd like to be
Well I can fly higher than an eagle
If you are the wind beneath my wings

It might have appeared to go unnoticed
but I've got it all here in my heart
I want you to know I know the truth
I would be nothing without you

You are the wind beneath my wings

R. Shawn Lewis

In the beginning, God created a universe. Upon reflection — seeing that it was good — He decided that a bit of humor was in order and created a FISH-MAN.

Lutz-Yelton seemed home for such a creature, stalking the halls in the wee hours of the morning, longing for Dawn. During the day, he could be found sniffing out scoops and searching for sensations throughout the campus.

At first, this creature seemed out of water, swimming to the beat of a different trumpet. Slowly, he became amphibious, emerging from the slime to pilot the ship, rock the airwaves, and to lead the SEA.

The Great Communicator looked upon this creation and pronounced it "good" — not perfect, but not bad!

Your efforts have been appreciated, Flounder, and this campus has been informed, entertained, and enriched by your tremendous personal growth.

Karen R. Martin

Karen clowns around a lot, especially in class. She dominates any class she is in, talking constantly and using her best English. Good thing! She claims that she is going to teach the language to unsuspecting high schoolers.

Because of her extreme height (6′1″), Karen has had some difficulty maintaining order in Decker. For three years, the freshmen girls there have feared her booming voice and heavy footsteps.

Rather inactive when not in class or terrorizing the halls of Decker, Karen claims to have worked on the yearbook, the Reflections staff, and on the GWC stage.

There will be little pleasure in seeing her walk away from our campus this time, for she has brought energy, competence, and excitement to her every endeavor. We will remember her.

Joe T. Hough

Joe is a rather short person who likes having dinner with his friends in the theatre. Somewhat backward and retiring in personality, he seldom cracks a joke or responds to others' laughter. This quiet, unassuming fellow would rather play with his toy cars or search for answers to endless questions.

Because of his short stature and withdrawn nature, Joe has had some problems in developing relationships with the opposite gender. Put him on the stage in front of a crowd, however, and he goes "bat-ty," especially if he sees something leggy just off the set. He really is a pretty good thespian, though — at least he says he is.

Joe Hough has developed and matured in his years at The WEBB, and he has made many faculty and student friends here. His academic achievements, his leadership, his warmth, and his patience make him easy for us to remember. We wish him well-being as he continues to "live along . . . into the answers."

Tricia G. Carson

Tricia came to Gardner-Webb with a severe weight problem (350 lbs.), but has consistently stuck with the Oprah diet until she got down to her present 95 lbs. Enterprising from the beginning, Tricia has had many financial schemes. In her early career, she went into the wholesale/retail detergent business, making profitable sales to her mother until the scam was discovered.

Tricia was born in Nigeria, just a Tadpole — so to speak — and has had some obvious difficulties to overcome, such as growing up as a wild/spoiled preacher/professor's kid and majoring in social science/psychology. Drs. Eastman, Hambright, and Carson have been just a few of the professionals who have tried to exert some control on his child. Fortunately, one of her major hobbies is sleeping!

Tricia has credited Gardner-Webb with helping to "turn my life around." Actually, she has been a credit to us; her pranks and personable exchanges have "livened up the joint." She will be impossible to replace.

Lydia Granger Powell

Lydia got so caught up in dramatics at the WEBB that she decided to play WIFE! She says that she likes children, so perhaps she will get to play the lead in the sequel, MOTHER!, some day. In any event, we can expect Lydia to be hanging around some stage for the rest of her life.

Her major ambition, however, is to become goalie for a Canadian hockey team. Always fascinated by nets and fast action, Lydia is sure to reach her goal. Dr. Eastman has already made several contacts for her and says "Sure! No problem!" Mr. Brock has arranged for a publicity tour and has several television networks interested in the movie rights.

We wish you an active and happy life, Lydia. You have worked hard here, brought much to the college theatre, to volleyball, and to the classroom. We have found pleasure in your bright smiles and hair, perfect metaphors for your spirit, dedication, and enthusiasm.

Nancy A. Reid

This student tried almost every major at the college, including Communication Studies, before she found something she could do in Religious Education and Psychology. Her background at one of the lesser-known high schools in Charlotte had left her prepared for only two majors.

Although she has had to struggle to keep her QPR out of the probationary status, Nancy has worked hard and made at least two friends. She has been befriended especially by Charles, who has felt sorry for her and who (as always) thinks that he's in charge.

In spite of her obvious inactivity here (Alpha Chi, Psychology Club, R.E. Club, Senior Senator, Presidential Scholar, R.A., yearbook staff, FOCUS, etc.), Nancy's contributions will be valued for a long time. She is clearly a leader, a person whose faith and intelligence have been applied to making herself and others richer from the experiences of her life.

Lesa B. Caudle

Thank goodness for Lesa's graduation! Decker Dorm has smelled like peanut butter ever since she got here. Perhaps now the air will clear! Some people like peanut butter — fine. Lesa cannot exist without it. David Helton has considered reclassifying the material as an illegal substance just to rid the residence hall of its odor.

Of course, Lesa's real problem has been with class attendance. For years, when she has turned sideways, her Education Department professors have marked her absent. We have felt her presence, however, at many a banquet; Lesa never misses an opportunity for a free meal.

This R.A.'s favorite sleeping companion is a real stuffed shirt — Foofur, the dog. Her ambition has been to provide a role model for future R.A.'s and to preserve the memories of her childhood.

Lesa, thanks for the sparkle you have added to our lives, for the blush that flushes your face when you're embarrassed, and for the care that shows in your actions. There are several generations of elementary school kids ahead who have a treat in store.

Yafet

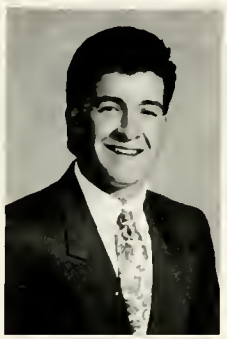
Kathie R. Burgin

Mrs. Burgin resumed her academic career rather late in life; consequently, except among the senior professors such as Drs. Stowe and Monroe, she has made few acquaintances. Her favorite courses have been Rhetoric/Grammar, Theory, and College Algebra, all of which she handled without fear and/or complaining.

Kathie occasionally engages in dramatic activity (sometimes just after an algebra test). Her contributions to community theatre are often unrecognized, for she is quite difficult to find at any given performance. Among her activities as wife, mother, student, and theatre activist, she finds time to help others — ranging from common-sense advice for fellow students to transporting great numbers of people and things in an ancient bus.

Kathie has been here only briefly, but she has brought a refreshing attitude and perspective to our efforts. This "Kate" is good at the taming of the shrewd. Gardner-Webb will continue to reap the benefits of her degree in Communications.



Paul G. Crews

This Paul had his conversion experience on the road to Greensboro. Here at GW, he and Dr. Partain have spent many hours together, primarily in conference about how Paul can become a better golfer and athlete!

Paul never spells his last name when he is introduced, for he claims that Tom is his big brother. Actually, Paul is the big brother. This year he got a lot bigger — the Biggest Brother.

This young man has been a real spiritual leader, inspiring many professors to renew their prayer lives, often on behalf of his grade! His activities, in and out of class, have been full of vitality and enthusiasm. His presence as member and president of F.C.A. has meant renewal of the organization and its members.

Paul has lead his fellow students in a quiet but forceful manner. His ministry has been operational for a long time, and we are sure he will bring the benefits of insight and faith to his future church partners as he has brought them to us.

Janet Lindsay

When she came here, Janet had jet black hair, but soon she found that she had more fun as a blond — and you see the results. Janet and Dr. Phil Perrin are often seen together, although neither of them seems to remember the bucket (the one used by the music department for carrying tunes).

Janet's favorite activities include diagramming sentences, writing music or communication theory papers, attending Spring Jub., stirring up B.S.U. meetings, and going on FOCUS trips. Wherever she goes, this girl generates tremendous publicity, especially for her friends in the Student Entertainment Association. Her abilities as a graphic designer have won her coveted awards on repeated occasions, and her acceptance speeches have been opportunities for her to flash that famous smile.

Janet Lindsay is one of those students whose talents and personality have combined with fierce determination to bring her success on this campus. The combination will almost certainly continue to produce similar results as she takes on the "real world."

The space shuttle "Challenger" explodes minutes after lift off. Seven are killed including Christa McAuliffe, New Hampshire high school teacher.

Len Bias dies the day after he is drafted in the first round by the Boston Celtics.

Box office hits include "Rocky III," "Down and Out in Beverly Hills," "The Color Purple," and "Pretty in Pink."

January 20 is declared a national holiday to remember the slain civil rights leader, Martin Luther King, Jr.

M. Christopher White becomes president of Gardner-Webb.

1987

Jim Bakker, head of PTL, resigns because a 1980 affair with former secretary, Jessica Hahn, is publicized.

Gary Hart pulls out of the presidential race after the Miami Herald prints stories of wrongdoing with Donna Rice.

Box office hits include "RoboCop," "Lethal Weapon." "Fatal Attraction," and "Good Morning Vietnam."

Music makers of the year include Prince, Madonna, Michael Jackson, Bon Jovi, U2, The Beastie Boys, and George Michael.

Lt. Col. Oliver North is forced to testify before Congress on his part in the illegal sale of arms to Iran and the diversion of those funds to the Contras in Nicaragua.

Andy Warhol, Liberace, and Jackie Gleason died this year.

1988

Aloha Airlines flight 243 is forced to land in Maui because a huge chunk of its fuselage is discovered missing in mid-flight. Only one casualty is suffered.

The U.S.S. Vincennes mistakes an Iranian jetliner for a fighter in the Persian Gulf. The Vincennes fires and destroys the craft killing 290 passengers.

Top movies included "Moonstruck," "Rain Man," "Twins," "Cocktail," and "Who Framed Roger Rabbit?"

In music, Guns-n-Roses came onto the charts. Def Leppard's "Hysteria" controlled the charts along with the soundtracks of current movies.

Televangelist Jimmy Swaggart tearfully admitted to his many followers that he had several encounters with a Louisiana prostitute.

George Bush becomes the 41st president of the United States, defeating Gov. Michael Dukakis in a campaign that renewed the once-dead practice of mud-slinging.

Box office hits included "Honey, I Shrunk the Kids," "Lethal Weapon II," and "Dead Poet's Society," but "Batman" topped them all.

1989

After many years of existence, the infamous Berlin Wall, a physical sign of the grip of communism, fell. East Berliners were allowed unrestricted travel for the first time since pre-World War II. Many Warsaw Pact countries followed suit, allowing citizens to leave their cell-like borders.

With the beginning of several reforms under the policy of glasnost, the Communist party led by Mikail Gorbachev ushered in, hopefully, an end of an era — the era known as the Cold War.

Lucille Ball, Bette Davis, Jim Bakkus, and Laurence Olivier died.

On April 19, the second gun turret on the U.S.S. Iowa exploded, killing 47 sailors.

Hurricane Hugo slammed the Carolinas and smashed everything in its path. One month later an earthquake measuring 7.0 on the Richter scale rocks the San Francisco Bay area.

Much thanks to The Pilot for the information.

GWC Opera: Applications Accepted for "The School for Lovers"

On November 2,3, and 4, the Gardner-Webb College Opera Theater presented "Cosi Fan Tutte" (The School for Lovers) in the Kathleen Dover Theatre. Directed by Dr. Terry Fern, a member of the Fine Arts Department, the opera was delightful experience for the students.

Cast members were Bobbie Low, Debbie Langston, Robert Harrelson, Doug Peninger, Lynn Rape, and Dr. Fern. Carolyn Billings was the accompanist.

The students enjoyed the bit of cultural experience that was filled with subtle humor and lots of laughs.

RUNNIN' BULLDOGS

The 1989-90 season brought many things for the Runnin' Bulldogs: injuries, academic woes, and new opponents. Through it all, the team held together, relying on the senior leadership of Darren Sanders, Orlando Early, Thomas Plaster, and Reggie Ampley. These four along with newcomers Jerry Chollette, Kirby Watson, and the improved play of Bruce Harris pulled the team through.

Financial Aid

Marie Martin works on another student's financial aid folder.

The Financial Aid Office manages several programs including the North Carolina Legislative Tuition Grants and the Work/Study Program. This office processes loans, helps students apply for federal aid, and advises families whose students need financial aid. This year the Financial Aid Office has offered workshops on how to apply for Financial Aid because several forms have changed, and they wanted to make certain the students knew how to apply.

Handicap Program

The Program for the Handicapped serves students with different kinds of disabilities, including visual, hearing, learning, physical, and orthopedic. This program provides visually imparied students with readers, textbooks on tape, as well as equipment including lap computers, talking calculators, and Braille machines. Students with hearing disabilities are provided with classroom interpreters, note-takers, and tutors. Students with learning disabilities are provided with tutors, note-takers, and programs that help build organizational and scheduling skills. Gardner-Webb's Program for the Handicapped offers several kinds of services a.id is one of the best in the state.

Communications expanded again this year in number of majors and in equipment. The addition of a new television video studio improved video instruction for majors and provided a base for future broadcast and production.

Communications has become quite visible in its activities, ranging from radio, T.V., print to graphic design. One of its most active components is drama, alive and well again on the GWC stage.

Years Ago . . .

Ruth Kiser with one of G-W's first foreign students.

His name was Victor.

"I really don't know about this giving stuff."

Registration — Always the true test of bravery.

"Yes, I paid real money for this."

AND FINALLY

Copy, copy, copy!

But, did we make the deadline?

We promise, it'll be here tomorrow!!

You want to be a yearbook editor? You must be sick!

Special thanks to . . .

Advisor — Dr. Bill Stowe

Thanks:
Dr. Bill Stowe — for the advice, the guidance, and the help.
Security — for checking up on us when we were here until 5 am.
"Flounder" Lewis — for the captions, the layouts, the pictures, and the help all those long nights.
Ozzie McFarland — for all the extra pictures.
Elaine Ashley — for the help with the seniors lists.
Richard Drye's Photo II class — for all the great pictures.
Dr. Dan Proctor — for the senior list and classification rolls.
The Portrait Studio — for the great student and faculty pictures.
Dawn Camp and Kathy Henson — for all the help and for putting up with two crazy editors as roommates.
Mily Dover — for the great looking typesetting and pictures.
Lou Ann Scates and the Registrar's Office — for the info we got from your records.
Noel Manning — for the last minute pictures we couldn't live without.
All the people who helped us identify people in pictures.
Everyone else that gave us a hand in producing this book.
